

Take up the challenge with this proactive, self-help solution and take the expense & the stress out of your relocation.

It's your challenge

Moving to a new city can be one of life's most exciting opportunities. It can also be one of the most challenging especially when there is a family involved because the issues become even more complex: Severing old ties, finding new schools, choosing the right neighborhood and establishing whole new social frameworks, only add to the practical things that need to be done.

Everyone who is relocating needs the assistance of a personal relocation consultant!

You need help

And access to real local information before you leave home! Researched by people who actually live and work in the city you're moving to. Someone to do all the groundwork for you so that you can address the important issues and make informed decisions before you arrive in the new city. That's the key to a successful relocation and resettlement!

There is a solution you can afford

The [™]Virtual Relocator Resource. A virtual relocation consultant working for you! Remaining open to all available options, with only your best interests at heart and who will introduce you to a range of neighborhoods most likely to suit your lifestyle, housing, education, community and budget requirements. Because we understand the frustration of feeling remote at this time, our aim is to help you to make fruitful preliminary research and considerable contact, long before you leave home. That way you can settle as quickly as possible upon arrival in your new city. And it's kindly been created with you in mind, so it's easy to use, with lots of colorful graphics and concise relevant information.
